Behind the Brand

The History

Ulster Carpets was founded by George Walter Wilson in Northern Ireland in 1938 and is still privately owned by the founders family. Ulster has taken the positive attributes associated with being a family business and combined them with a forward thinking, global approach to business. The result is a technologically advanced, service driven company with flair, flexibility and a passion for quality.

Manufacturing in the UK & Ireland since 1938

All of our Wilton & Axminster carpets are manufactured in Ireland in one of the most technologically advanced carpet weaving plants in the world. In recognition of the PSYLO™ weaving technology, developed here, Ulster received the “Queen’s Award for Enterprise”.

Ulster & The Environment

We take our commitment to minimising our impact on the environment very seriously.

We have an Environmental Management System accredited with ISO 14001, which we have held for over 12 years as well as introducing a sustainability policy and awareness throughout the company and hope to build on the successes we have had to date

Waste

Reducing waste is a key part of Ulster's Sustainability Policy. 96% of our post industrial waste is now diverted from landfill and either reused or recycled. We are aware that ultimately at the end of their lives most carpets end up in landfill. To try and reduce waste, many of our wool rich carpets have been approved for "Heavy" or "Extra Heavy Wear" by the Carpet Foundation, therefore extending their lifetime.
